State Real Estate Board Convenes Here Today for Review of License Case

Complaint Against Carl R. Haas and E. R Mulvaine Up for Rehearing in Testimony Taken at Courthouse; Complainant on Stand at Morning Session

Rehearing of the Carl R Haas and E R Mulvaine real estate relicensing case got under way this morning before the state real estate licensing board The hearing was being held in the offices of the board of county commissioners

Harry Lewis who filed the complaint that resulted in the two real estate men being denied licenses by the board several weeks ago was the first to take the witness stand Examination and cross examination of Lewis took up the entire morning

The complaint filed by Lewis grew out of a transaction arranged by Mulvaine in which properties owned by Lewis on Fies av and Wooster B Denman on Spencer st were to be exchanged For purposes of exchange Denman valued his property at $5,500 The Lewis property was valued at $[illegible]00 In the exchange contract signed by Lewis and Denman there was a clause specifying that the contract was to be void in case Lewis could not obtain $2,000 loan on the Fies av property

Details of Negotiations

After two attempts Lewis was unable to obtain the loan Then other negotiations were entered into involving land contracts deeds promissory notes and mortgages that the board is attempting to learn the meaning of When the new transaction was completed Lewis found him[illegible] in possession of the Spencer st property as well as the Fies av property

Lewis testified this morning that he was entirely ignorant of the terms of the second negotiations His only conception of the deal he testified was that he was to give Denman $2,000 in the exchange

Lewis answers in examination and cross examination apparently failed to materially clear up the tangle of legal technicalities that are involved in the case

Denied Licenses

Haas and Mulvaine were denied licenses to engage in real estate transactions as agents at a meeting of the licensing board in Columbus more than a month ago Later a rehearing was granted by the board The rehearing to have been held here two weeks ago was continued when several members of the board failed to appear At that time Haas and Mulvaine were given permission to continue in business pending disposition of the case at the rehearing It is the continued rehearing that is being held here today

MANAGER OF CHILD ACTRESS FINED $10

Peggy Eames To Complete Movie Here, Stage Appearance Cancelled

Frank Spencer, manager of Peggy Eames, [illegible] young movie star, in her personal visits to theaters in Ohio and other states, paid a fine of $10 and costs in municipal court here yesterday following his plea of guilty to sponsoring the appearance of the young actress at the Palace theater.

A warrant for Spencer's arrest was issued on an affidavit filed by Miss Gertrude Weaver, state welfare officer, charging violation of the law which prohibits stage appearance of children under 14 years of age. Spencer at first pleaded not guilty and his hearing was set by Judge Martin for Thursday afternoon. He changed his plea yesterday afternoon.

As a result of the charges filed by the state officer, Little Miss Eames will make no further appearances on the stage at the Palace theater, where she was booked this week.

Plans for screening the Palace Gang movie with Peggy in the leading role will go ahead as originally scheduled, it was announced today, there being no provision in the state law against this part of her contract here. She will be here during the remainder of the week.

All parts in the Palace Gang comedy with exception of the one taken by Peggy will be filled by Marion youngsters. The cast is now being selected in screen tests at the Palace theater each night.

The gang movie with Peggy and the local cast in the various roles will be shown at the Palace next week.

Local youngsters already chosen for parts are: Warren C. Snyder as Johnny; Dora Hall as Farina and Horace Scroggins as Sunshine Sammy.

Screening of the picture is to start Friday night and will be finished Saturday. Scenes will be taken on the streets of Marion Saturday.

Unable To Do Housework, Rundown, Nervous and Weak; Nu-Erb Triumphs

"It Just Did Wonders For Me After Everything Else Had Failed," Says This Lady

"My system was in such a badly rundown condition that I had no energy to even do my housework," said Mrs. Y. L. Zimmerman, Levillsburg, Ohio.

"It all started with my stomach being in a very delicate condition and I suffered continually for several years because of indigestion and gas in my stomach after meals. I had to be so careful of what I ate and not getting the proper nourishment out of my food affected my entire system. I'd get splitting headaches that lasted for days at a time and I became so nervous that even the least bit of work was a burden to me and I was irritable and restless all the time. I'd waken in the morning feeling tired and worn out with scarcely enough energy to get out of bed.

"Nu-Erb has changed all that for me in a remarkably short time. It has strengthened my entire system, quieted my nerves and put an end to the headaches. It has also overcome the indigestion and gas in my stomach and I can now eat most anything I please and [illegible] trouble afterward. I [illegible] recommend this medicine to [illegible] suffering from similar troubles."

If you feel tired and [illegible] [illegible] improper functioning of the stomach, kidneys, liver or bowels, the [illegible] building medicine Dr. [illegible] Nu-Erb will quickly relieve these sufferings and restore health and strength.

Schaffner & Sons, 121 South Main St., is the only place in Marion where Nu-Erb may be purchased. [illegible] the Nu-Erb man is now making headquarters there and let him [illegible] to you the merits of this remarkable medicine.—Adv.

President Coolidge has signed the migratory bird bill establishing refuges in various sections of the country Sometimes we are inclined to feel that possibly the country as a whole does not realize to the full the greatness of the work which the Audubon society directly or indirectly has done in preserving the little feathered friends of man

Dangerous Sidewalk Obstructions

The announcement that the city had been made defendant in a $10 000 damage proceeding for injuries suffered as the result of a fall sustained by the plaintiff Tressie Schweinfurth when she tripped on an iron pipe projecting above a sidewalk should not have occasioned surprise It is surprising that more such proceedings have not been initiated It will be a matter for surprise if more proceedings of the kind are not begun in the near future some of which may be the stronger because of the possibility that they may arise as the result of injuries sustained in falls over obstructions in sidewalks to which the attention of the city authorities has frequently been called

The pipes left projecting a few inches above the sidewalks when the electric light arch was removed from the public square are a menace to pedestrians So are some of the defective crosswalks at street intersections There is one at the intersection of Church and Baker streets which is a constant threat to the public and one in a still more dangerous condition at the intersection of Church street and Cummins avenue All over the uptown business section of the city blocks of cement may be found extending above the sidewalk levels These obstructions occur where poles have been removed and the holes filled with earth and cement The action of the weather has caused the cement plugs to rise and become a menace to foot traffic

Should any citizen fall over any of these obstructions there will be no [illegible] difficulty in making out a [illegible] case against the city for the reason that one has but to examine the files of the Star to find where the city has been warned that these obstructions may prove grounds for damage proceedings against the municipality

True, the city might be [illegible] penalization for [illegible] permitting such obstructions to remain in the sidewalks but in the light of such [illegible] it has [illegible] there is difficulty in imagining how it [illegible] escape the payment of damages

It seems to us that the safe [illegible] city would be to remove these dangerous obstructions and avoid the possibility of [illegible] any reason of them

The Pursuit of Revenue.

Those who have been [illegible] to touch with the proceedings of the two state legislative bodies [illegible] must be somewhat mystified regarding the possible disposition of the [illegible] of money members of the general assembly are seeking to raise

We very frankly confess that we have not followed the proceedings of the assembly as closely as we should and possibly we may have overlooked some of the proposed revenue producing measures offered but we have noted three which if enacted into laws will produce an estimated total of $24 000 000 annually in addition to the revenues derived from existing sources

The first of the three bills offered to which we refer is the proposal to add a cent to the gasoline tax to make the tax four cents a gallon instead of three It is not at all difficult to figure that the extra cent tax will raise $8 000 000 yearly

The second proposal is what is known as the anti chain store bill a proposal which will subject all stores in the state to the payment of a license fee The fee will be a graduated one merely nominal for one store, but rising rapidly for a number of stores under the same ownership or management the greater the number of stores in the chain the greater the fee It is estimated that this bill if made a law will produce $10 000 000 annually

The third proposal is for a graduated tax on cigarets The minimum tax will be one cent on a ten cent package of cigarets the tax increasing with the selling price of the cigarets of higher grades Here again some close figuring may be done It is easy to understand that the revenue which can be secured from such a tax will not fall below $6 000 000

No doubt there are those who will approve all of these proposed measures It is just as probable that many will disapprove of them Whether they possess merit or lack of merit however is not so much a matter of interest with us as how the money secured through them is to be expended

It was the recommendation and desire of Governor Cooper that only bills absolutely necessary be passed He made plain that we already had too many laws and that the general assembly could better employ its time in rescinding old and obsolete laws than by passing new ones In any event he urged there was need for the practicing of economy and he expressed the hope that members of the two legislative bodies would keep that need in mind

What is the result? The state law makers have paid practically no attention to the recommendation looking to the rescinding of old laws save in cases where they have offered one or more bills to supplant them The recommended repeal of the Fence law is a case in point Instead there has been a regular orgy of bill offering the two houses having offered almost 800 bills And when it comes to the economy suggestion some of our law makers seem to have taken it as an urge to burn up money

For the first time in years we have here in Ohio a Republican governor and a general assembly Republican in both branches Sins of either commission or omission can not be shunted off onto the opposition party The Republican administration must stand or fall on the record it makes The burden borne by Ohio tax payers is already heavy It can not hope to gain the approval of the public by adding materially to the burden already being borne The overwhelming vote which put it into power at the last election can not be construed as warrant for reckless expenditure and this should be kept in mind when proposals looking to the raising of additional revenue by tens of millions come up for consideration

The general assembly will manifest wisdom by seeking means by which to curtail expenditures rather than by searching for channels in which to raise more revenue

The new police commissioner of New York City has not succeeded in running down the slayer of Rothstein gambler and dope smuggler failing in which cost his predecessor his job but he has succeeded in so tying up pedestrian traffic that New Yorkers have forgotten that Rothstein ever existed Which goes to show once more that there are more ways than one of killing a cat

As Germany has received a wire assumedly from Trotzky in Constantinople asking permission for his residence in her domain we might assume that he was really in Turkey were it not for the Moscow admission that he has been exiled from Russia Had he been exiled would Russia admit it? Three Things Will Lengthen Life.

BY ROYAL S COPELAND M D

What do you look upon as the fundamentals of good health Before you read further shut your eyes and make up your mind what these fundamentals are Suppose you write and give me your conclusions

Not long ago I read a book about health The author named what he regards as the fundamentals He expressed his view that these are three

Fresh air

Rational diet

Wholesome exercise

To have a really healthy body an efficient body, a disease resisting body all three of these fundamental things must be found Not one of them can be omitted You just can't leave off one of them

To have good health there must be abundance of fresh air The diet must be well chosen and eaten properly You can not neglect exercise

A full diet without sufficient exercise is followed steadily by increase of weight Likewise extra pounds are taken on if too much of the wrong food is taken Overeating is one of the most serious of human vices

I often say that I can not see why so many high minded persons get so excited over intemperance in drink and are so silent about intemperance in eating It is the cause of many of the diseases of middle and advanced life Perhaps I may say it is the chief cause of the preventable diseases

The trouble with most of us is that we mistreat our bodies Somehow we appear to value the car we own more than we do our own health It is plainly true that we give more attention to the automobile than we do to our bodies We look the car over every day It may be only once a month we give a thought to the machinery of the body

Before you can get a license to run an automobile you must be examined by the public authorities Yet you are permitted to run the most precious machine in the world even though you are ignorant of it or wholly indifferent to its make up or needs

Funny isn't it

If we did use in caring for the machinery of our bodies one half the good sense we apply to the care of the automobile the mortality rate would be reduced at once The span of life would be increased

I wish I could impress upon you how essential it is to your welfare that you should determine what are the fundamentals of health Then having determined what they are set out with the firm and steadfast purpose of applying your knowledge to the improvement of your health and the extension of your stay on earth

AN EPISODE OF UNDERWORLD WAR

Those who like their crime news hot and strong and spiced with novelty will be gratified by the latest outbreak in Chicago's never ending underworld war

It would be a jaded appetite for melodramatic terrorism that did not respond to the grim episodes which in methodical preparations and callous execution surpass the tales of medieval ferocity

As the climax of a feud between two bands of criminals one resorted to the drastic measure of extermination The time for individual encounters and casual gunplay it seems had passed Rivals for the right to prey must be settled once for all

The avengers or executioners made their plans with care and carried them out with efficiency and precision Clad in police uniforms when they burst into the hideout of the doomed gang they simulated convincingly a raid by the authorities of the law

The dazed victims threw up their hands at the command and in the split second before they recognized the assassins they were helpless As they lined up against the wall the sawed off shotguns roared and the eight slumped under the volley The slayers vanished The police found only the crumpled bodies six dead men and one mortally wounded

This ghastly act of wholesome murder was perpetrated in the second city of the United States Its revelation occasioned excitement but no great surprise It varied only in detail from a multitude of like occurrences in the past

The cynical comment of many Americans will be Such is life in Chicago One will hear again the flippant remark Gangsters fighting again Well let em The more they kill each other the better

But let this be remembered That horrible thing in Chicago is not impossible in other cities It is not impossible in Philadelphia It is a natural result of such corrupt alliances between the underworld and the agencies of the law as that revealed in this community a few months ago

Philadelphians who think this city could never witness such a ghastly occurrence that they need not fear having the streets made the battleground of criminal feuds deceive themselves

They owe their relative immunity from such horrors only to the fact that District Attorney Monaghan and the grand jury have waged war upon the underworld and its protectors And the menace will return just as surely as the public tolerates a revival of the confederacy of politics and crime —Philadelphia Record

MAKING A BAD MATTER WORSE

As a revenue producer the gasoline tax is most convenient Just add a cent a gallon and $8 000 000 a year comes rolling into the coffer Once the principle of the tax is admitted by enactment of the first law the rest comes easy

Ohio first taxed the fuel of the age two cents then it was increased to three now a member of the house proposes to jump it another cent The state is supposed to need the money and the fraternity of accelerator pressers are expected to stand for the levy

It is not denied that the gas tax is sound in principle when the money is used on highways for it distributes the cost with fair justice among those who use the roads There must be a limit however beyond which the legislature can not in fairness go

Our own opinion is that Ohio motorists are already taxed as heavily and in as many ways as reason can justify We have another and perhaps better reason for opposing the bill now offered at Columbus

Mr Sullivan of Union county author of the bill not only proposes to increase the gas tax by thirty per cent but would also redistribute the income from the tax He would take some $1 600 000 from the cities where the bulk of the tax is paid and use it on township roads

Too much of the money taken from city drivers already goes into roads they never see The Sullivan bill would make a bad matter worse —Cleveland Plain Dealer

MR TROTZKY UNDER GUARD

The unusual spectacle of a powerful minority leader exiled under strict guard in Constantinople is a striking commentary on the methods of absolutism in government Finding that Trotzky's support was so strong as to require that he be better treated than by exile in a lonely Siberian village the Stalin government has sent their most menacing opponent to a more pleasant climate under the guard of soviet officials Presumably it would not be safe—for the Stalin regime—if he were sent into exile in the usual fashion to go where he chose or where he could [illegible]

And thus do absolute governments work [illegible] will [illegible] opposition before it can [illegible] forces into an organized movement which [illegible] threaten the party in power

In other words, dictatorship whether by an alleged superman or by a tyrannical group [illegible] works out not only to [illegible] of masses of people but also [illegible] dissension and unrest among [illegible] [illegible] by the ruling [illegible] [illegible] in the state is the [illegible] of sane and lasting government —Cincinnati Enquirer

Einstein and Negative Gravity.

BY GARRETT P SERVISS

As far as concerns the intelle[illegible] a praze man Albert Einstein is [illegible] for having let out of their me[illegible] enormous number of blind ba[illegible] circling in the sunshine of p[illegible] dream gleams about the moonlig[illegible] mon everyday sense

Having thrown off the tramme[illegible] old Euclid geometry the [illegible] themselves able to explain [illegible] nothing The discover [illegible] really awake except when we are [illegible] see things as they are o[illegible] wh[illegible] dreaming

One of my favorite dreams whi[illegible] tainly delightful used to be that [illegible] would throw up my heels, float o[illegible] of a precipice and soar exulting [illegible] humbled earth or I would sail aro[illegible] in touch with the ceiling or swing [illegible] op of a church steeple I seeme[illegible] simple wish and will power [illegible] it came about that I had to squee[illegible] power pre[illegible] hard to keep up In [illegible] it seemed to become like a worn o[illegible] an atomizer—it would no longer [illegible] last time I remember to have drea[illegible] ing I couldn't get off the ground

I had flattered myself that the w[illegible] of the power of the dream high [illegible] of the strengthening of the logi[illegible] but now it appear[illegible] from one of the [illegible]tations given of Einstein's latest ge[illegible] tion that when one dreams of fl[illegible] be living in the true world o[illegible] Re[illegible] Einstein has worked out through [illegible] and the new mathematics an ide[illegible] itation and electro magnetism U[illegible] is postulated that if we could c[illegible] hang of the thing it would be possib[illegible] airplanes without engines to floa[illegible] ty story windows and in again a[illegible] Dunglas Home and in short to [illegible] tical jokes upon gravitation at o[illegible]

Negative gravity has long been a [illegible] speculation to philosophers and s[illegible] Frank R Stockton for instance had a [illegible] ing tale about it Very lately claim[illegible] been made that gravity had actually be[illegible] lified so that heavy bodies could be [illegible] without support in the air It appear[illegible] ever that this was only accompli[illegible] aid of magnetism

An alloy produced in the Bell Tel[illegible] laboratories called perm alloy wa[illegible] shown by Professor H H Sheldon [illegible] York to have the apparent pow[illegible] of [illegible] in the air when placed a short distan[illegible] a magnet The secret lies in the sensitiveness of the permalloy to magn[illegible] What happens here is apparently a ba[illegible] of opposing forces The metal alloy [illegible] suspended above the magnet very mu[illegible] ball is prevented from falling by th[illegible] force of a plume of water rising from a [illegible]tain If the earth were hollow objects [illegible] side its shell would remain suspended where that they happened to be because [illegible] itation would be self neutralized or on all sides

The performances of sea gulls on the w[illegible] are striking examples of the apparent nul[illegible]cation of gravity They not only float mo[illegible] less but they dart about without flap[illegible] their wings as if by mere will force [illegible] when we analyse the forces operating u[illegible] them in the air we find that they [illegible] tuned and driven about in the same m[illegible] as kites Only ordinary mechanical fo[illegible] act upon them

None of these things except dream[illegible] if it were satisfactorily authe[illegible] performance of the spiritualist Ho[illegible] have any real bearing upon Einste[illegible] and if he can not himself expre[illegible] except with special mathematic[illegible] there is not much use in trying to [illegible] in ordinary English words or on the [illegible] ordinary human experience —Copy[illegible] 1929 International Feature Service

STARLINGS BACK

Newcomers In Local Bird Population Again Seen Here

The starling, a species of bird which appeared in Marion and vicinity last winter, has returned to the city, according to a statement from Addison Bain, who says that he noticed several of the newcomers near his home on Wallace st. yesterday. They were with a large flock of other birds at the bird feed table which he has installed near his home, Mr. Bain said.

As far as is known, these are the first starlings seen in the city this year. They arrived very close to a year from the time that the first ones appeared in 1928, Mr. Bain said. The ones at that time came following a heavy snowfall, the same as is the case this year.

Starlings are rapidly increasing in number and farmers fear that eventually they will overrun the country the same as sparrows, Mr. Bain said. Large numbers have been reported in and around Cleveland and other lake points.

INSTEAD of exercise

on court or links try the little candy tablet in the vest pocket box for a dime!

Physicians say Cascarets give your bowels as much real exercise as you get from an hour of hard play. They are made from Cascara Sagrada which stimulates the peristaltic action and exercises the bowel muscles. Oils salts and ordinary laxatives don't act like Cascarets. These things only produce mechanical or chemical action which really weakens the bowels.

Every time you take Cascarets your bowels become stronger. That's the reason they give lasting relief from constipation biliousness headaches indigestion bloating etc. That's why 20 million boxes are used a year.

"The VANGUARD"

By Arnold Bennett

MR. SEPTIMUS SUTHERLAND [illegible] turbed again [illegible] Lord Furber in the [illegible]. He thought a [illegible] Harriet Perkins. He [illegible] away from her [illegible] he could have [illegible] excursion—or course [illegible]. On the other [illegible] that it was [illegible] the [illegible]. He wondered whether [illegible] prudent as him [illegible] not been how [illegible] going off at once to the London and his very domes[illegible]. But he could not bear [illegible] because he could not bear the [illegible] of not returning to the [illegible] and Harriet.

He wondered whether as a measure of precaution he [illegible] to telegraph to Mrs. Suth[illegible] come to Rome bringing with her. [illegible] they would [illegible] his settle[illegible]. His anxieties [illegible] Lord Furber [illegible] kept the yacht [illegible] for a [illegible] the Sutherlands [illegible] herself would be [illegible] casually addressing him [illegible].

What was the mystery [illegible] power over him [illegible] What had [illegible] created her power? [illegible] he was sure to dream of Harriet [illegible] raved in one of the [illegible] dresses which Lord Furber had lavished upon her in his [illegible] way. Mr. Sutherland also [illegible] long stretches of the night [illegible] reflecting upon his relations with Lord Furber. He ought to have [illegible] Lord Furber. But [illegible]. He ought to have [illegible] felt that [illegible] escape in the [illegible]. And [illegible] foresaw that he might [illegible] find himself in new [illegible]. Lord Furber had mentioned the [illegible] and St. Peter's. If Septimus had [illegible] nevertheless out of [illegible]. If they went to St. Peter's would he come [illegible] nevertheless out of St. Peter's? In the night Lord Furber's [illegible] his [illegible] was the [illegible] lers? * * * Something [illegible] at the bottom of all that. If in the morning Lord Furber suggested [illegible] St. Peter's, what ought Septimus to do?

However, when morning [illegible] rived, Septimus [illegible] recovered his self [illegible] confidence. His [illegible] had the [illegible] and glittering brilliance which comes of insomnia and fatigue. What precisely had he been fearing in the night? His fears had been absurd. Lord Furber could not force him to do anything that he wished not to do. The sun shone in at the bedroom window and completed Mr. Sutherland's restoration to sanity. He dressed himself unaided, and at 9.30 precisely, the hour of the breakfast rendezvous, he appeared in the private sitting room. [illegible] seconds later through the opposite door Lord Furber also appeared, all fresh and diabolic.

"How did ye sleep, Sep?" said the baron cheerily.

"Fine," answered Mr. Sutherland. "Why this [illegible]"

"So did I," said the baron. "And I don't often. It must be a great place for sleep, Rome must." Septimus knew that Lord Furber really had slept well.

"What d'ye think of the valet here?" Lord Furber demanded.

"Never saw him."

"Ye didn't. Well, [illegible] has made me nearly helpless. I can shave myself, but I can't wipe my own razor. The dago here [illegible] him self wiping it. Look at my only clean collar!"

The baron pointed gayly to a blood spot on his only clean collar. He was enjoying the simple life. His eyes were full of laughter, innuendo, charming menace, chicane. His voice was rich with subtle significances.

"Hm," murmered Mr. Sutherland, noncommittal.

"Well, now," said the baron after the breakfast was brought in and they had begun to eat. "What d'ye say, Seppie? Shall we drive back to the yacht or shall we see something else first?"

"Better see something else," said Mr. Sutherland, "as this is your first visit to Rome." He had meant to say "Go back to the yacht," but he could not. The baron was strangely putting words into his mouth.

"What?"

"St. Peter's, do you think?"

Madman! Ass! He might just as well have said the Pantheon, the Forum, the Cloaca Maxima or the Borghese Villa. But he had to say St. Peter.

"All right, if ye like," said Lord Furber, just as though he was politely yielding to a whim of his beloved crony.

In the still warm air they walked to St. Peter's—arm in arm. Mr. Sutherland in spite of himself enjoyed the pressure of the baron's arm. It seemed to him that the friendly [illegible] was [illegible] from [illegible] But [illegible] Peter's [illegible] Mr. [illegible] He [illegible] Sep [illegible] the [illegible] partial [illegible] down [illegible] the [illegible] used.

The Dome

[illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] walked [illegible] a few [illegible] and stared [illegible] the marble wall [illegible] the [illegible] Lord Furber [illegible] his [illegible] ever [illegible].

"Well," said the baron. "He could [illegible] with the goods [illegible]."

"W[illegible]"

"Michael Angelo. See here, Sep, I reckon we've got to climb up to [illegible]."

"[illegible]," [illegible] Mr. Sutherland. "You certainly [illegible] view."

[illegible] himself in the [illegible] of the dome [illegible] in the [illegible] of Lord Furber and [illegible] heart that he was [illegible]. [illegible] realized that [illegible] was [illegible] worth the trouble [illegible]. They returned to the porter [illegible] tickets for which Mr. Sutherland paid.

"A lift," [illegible] the baron with [illegible] "A lift in St. Peter's [illegible]"

[illegible] a fat man who seemed delighted [illegible] what's all [illegible] the South have said to this [illegible].

The baron smiled on [illegible] and Lord Furber [illegible] had [illegible] broken his rule [illegible] 10 [illegible] to the official.

They [illegible] chaptered shaft [illegible] the liftman lowed them out [illegible] and they were [illegible] the [illegible] roof of St. Peter's which [illegible] the roof of Rome—a hill [illegible] itself [illegible] roof little domes [illegible] dwellings, girls [illegible] picture [illegible] palisade [illegible] statues. All [illegible] history of Rome [illegible] with them. The Mediterranean on [illegible] one. The Appenines on the other. The rolling Campagna [illegible] which here and there cities gleamed. The Tiber. The gasworks. And the wind blowing freshly across the [illegible] of the roof. In the streets [illegible] was [illegible] but here half a [illegible] Michael Angelo's dome [illegible] from the pl[illegible] apparently as high as when seen from the streets, and beyond the dome in the clouds the cupola, and beyond the cupola the ball!

"Come on," said Lord Furber and started off almost at a run toward the beckoning dome.

Mr. Sutherland followed as he had followed in the Coliseum, the kettle rattling after the dog. He knew that [illegible] was now in another and a morally dangerous world. He trembled lest he should be going to defeat [illegible]. They reached the dome and climbed stairways and passed through a tunnel and entered a gallery and they leaned forward [illegible] and the interior of St. Peter's was beneath their feet with tourists walking like dolls on the marble floor. And all around curved thousands of [illegible] of glittering mosaic, every inch finished with the minuteness of a jewel.

"[illegible]," exclaimed Lord Furber.

Mr. Sutherland breathed relief, thought that the baron would go no higher. But the baron was simply acknowledging in Michael Angelo a superior. They hurried out again and [illegible] another and a darker [illegible] and [illegible] every urban official saluted them, and in proportion as they rose higher the salutations of the officials grew more welcoming, as though these [illegible] rare [illegible] from earth.

They passed through another tunnel and had another view of the [illegible] and now the tourists had dwindled to beetles crawling over the marble floors. And then they engaged themselves in ladder-like twisting stairs that wormed their way between the inner and the outer domes, and breaths [illegible] and puffs quickened from [illegible] to allegro and [illegible] rallentando. Higher, higher. The world well lost and sunken away. Higher and higher.

For a soapy, sudsy bath—use Melo

Ever to have plenty of suds when you're bathing? Then don't bathe in hard water—city water as it comes from the faucet. Soap combines with the hard water and forms a dirt ring around the edge of the tub. That's scum. And that's certainly not pleasant.

Hard water can be made soft. Just put Melo in the water and you have a very remarkable cleaner, with or without soap. Then watch the soap lather! Then watch the suds come! Then watch the scum go! The Heart Story of a Woman's Lasting Affections

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge Agrees to the Secret Meeting

I PASSED Noel Veritzen's appeal over to Lillian as soon as I had read it, for there was nothing in the note to which gave any inkling of the reason for his desperate need of advice. I was sure, however, that his betrothal to the Princess Olina, which Mary had overheard and related to me, was the quandary which he was facing.

Lillian read the note through and then looked at me with eyes that held amusement and compassion.

"The poor lad," she said. "That touch of having no one of whom to ask advice save you ought to be ready to call Lillian on the tempo of a blacksnake whip around his ankles. The boy has no close woman relative, has he? I never heard of any."

"His mother is dead," I returned, "and I always have understood that he is an only child, although I do not believe that either Noel or his father ever said so."

"That wouldn't," Lillian nodded. "That old lad put a lock on his mouth when he was about sixteen and hid the key in a safety deposit box. The only person I've ever known to hear him talk on anything pertaining to his past is yourself. He sure dished you a plentiful helping that time when he told you about his early romance with Queen Olga, Olina's mother, and that he himself was a left-handed cousin of the King of Transrania. I've always been most flattered that he gave you permission to pass along the dope to me, though I'd like to iron him out flat for planning so outlandish a thing as the marriage of his son to Queen Olga's daughter. But all this isn't buttering any parsnips for Noel. Of course you're to send a 'yes' back by Jerry [illegible]. I'll drive you over to Bridgehampton and when you are ready to have me meet you there, [illegible] ring from wherever [illegible] are dining and Harry and I will [illegible] for you."

She picked up the note and glanced over it again.

"Isn't he precious?" she asked. "I don't want to come to the house—for reasons—Reasons, of course, spelling Mary in capital letters. Do you suppose he knows yet——"

"That Mary and Georges are engaged," I finished for her. "No, how [illegible]? It was only this afternoon that it happened and Mary is waiting [illegible] until Georges gets back to his hotel to telephone him that she wishes him to tell nobody until she sees him again."

"Well," Lillian fixed her eyes on me. "Are you going to tell Noel about it?"

"How can I?" I countered. "Of course she didn't swear me to secrecy or even ask me to keep it to myself. But Mary's one thought is to keep it from Olina until Georges announces it at his [illegible] he is planning for the [illegible] people and——"

"The distinguished patron and patroness," Lillian finished with a sly grin at me. "But let me tell you something that isn't a lullaby. There is a time for Quixotism and there also is a time for letting the windmills slide, and if you let that boy Noel go unprepared to that dinner and let him hear Mary's betrothal announced without any time to steel his nerves for the announcement, I'm off you for life. He may be going to announce his own to Olina—I agree with the theory Harry propounded a few minutes ago. But that doesn't alter the fact that he's far too much in love with Mary to have her betrothal announcement hurled at him without his being prepared for it."

"I know you're right," I said slowly. "But——"

"But me no buts," she said. "I'm sure you'll tell him before he hears it from a less kindly source."

"I promise," I said, knowing the essential justice of her mandate though dubious as to the ethical points involved, and then I went to my own room and scribbled a hasty [illegible] to Noel Veritzen.

"I shall be at the Bridgehampton station an hour from now," I wrote, "and I will be very glad to dine with you and to help you in any way I can."

I signed it, folded the note into an envelope which I addressed, and took it down to the barn where I gave it into Jerry Denton's hands with the injunction to deliver it immediately. As I hurried back into the house to change my gown and shoes for my little outing, I met Mary coming down the stairs.

"I've been looking for you," she said. "Georges just telephoned and he hasn't told anybody yet, nor won't until I give him permission. But he wants to take me to dinner tonight and asks if you will chaperone us."

"I can't possibly do that tonight, Mary," I said, "for I have an engagement for dinner myself. But you can tell Georges that I will relax the rules this once and let you go to dinner with him unchaperoned. We must permit some royal latitude to a possible future queen, you know."

She gave a very little smile, then [illegible] my arm.

"Auntie Madge," she said, "I must see Noel tonight or tomorrow. Can you arrange it for me?"

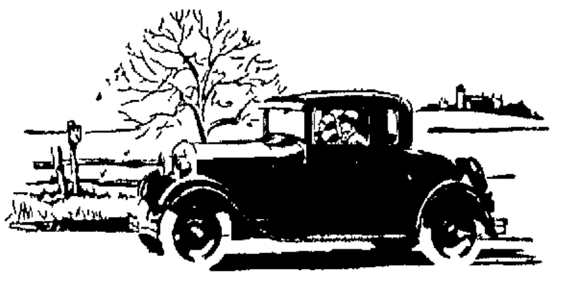
Fuel system of the new Ford has been designed for reliability and long service



THE practical value of Ford simplicity of design is especially apparent in the fuel system.

The gasoline tank is built integral with the cowl and is unusually sturdy because it is made of heavy sheet steel, terne plated to prevent rust or corrosion. An additional factor of strength is the fact that it is composed of only two pieces, instead of three or four, and is electrically welded—not soldered.

Because of the location of the tank, the entire flow of gasoline is an even, natural flow—following the natural law of gravity. This is the simplest and most direct way of supplying gasoline to the carburetor without variations in pressure. The gasoline feed pipe of the new Ford is only 18 inches long and is easily accessible all the way.

The gasoline passes from the tank to the carburetor through a filter or sediment bulb mounted on the steel dash which separates the gasoline tank from the engine.

The carburetor is specially designed and has been built to deliver many thousands of miles of good service. Since all adjustments are fixed except the needle valve and idler, there is practically nothing to get out of order.

The choke rod on the dash acts as a primer and also as a regulator of your gasoline mixture. The new hot-spot manifold insures complete vaporization of the gasoline before it enters the combustion chamber of the engine.

As a matter of fact, the fuel system of the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires very little service attention.

The filter or sediment bulb should be cleaned at regular intervals and the carburetor screen removed and washed in gasoline. Occasionally the drain plug at the bottom of the carburetor should be removed and the carburetor drained for a few seconds.

Have your Ford dealer look after these little details for you when you have the car oiled and greased. A periodic checking-up costs little, but it has a great deal to do with long life and continuously good performance.

HOMECOMING GAME OF SAINTS ON LOCAL BASKETBALL CARD

Red and Black Will Close Season at Edwards Gym in Delaware

BY KARL R McELROY
Sports Editor, The Star

ITS breaking [illegible] in short [illegible] gasps with the central district tournament [illegible] Delaware [illegible] of the finish only [illegible] relief the [illegible] basketball season in Marion [illegible] of its [illegible]

Saturday [illegible] basketball fans will make [illegible] the bod of Marion's favorite winter sport [illegible] high school quintets furnishing the proper atmosphere. One contest is down on the books for the home town floor and this is expected to write a fitting finis to the renewal of St Mary's activities in the field of sports.

It will be the home coming gam for the Saints with the former students of the school slated to rub shoulders and make whoopee with the present generation. Plans are being made to take care of a capacity crowd for the event.

Stripped of the popular adjectives at the command of a sports writer the game featuring the clash between the Holy Angels of Sidney and the local Irish is certain to be a wow. The name Holy Angels I understand is just about as misleading as a halter on a mule for the Sidney team is really five devils masked in basketball uniforms. And how they play basketball!

At Delaware Harding's Red and Black basketeers will conclude their interscholastic court season by seeking revenge over the college town quint for an unexpected defeat earlier in the season. Grabbing off a little of the mystic powers common in Pennsylvania Coach Compton is hexing his team for this game in an attempt to turn the tide of one point reverses so common this season.

The Red and Black is getting a light workout this week. Monday night the team rested from its tough schedule last week end when it was defeated at Shelby and Zanesville. Practice was resumed last night and will be touched off with a session Thursday in Star auditorium.

DEMPSEY CERTAIN OF $350,000 GATE

Advance Ticket Sales Reach $275,000, Magnolia Named Referee

MIAMI BEACH Fla Feb 20—Jack Dempsey promoter of the Stribling-Sharkey fight at Flamingo park here one week from tonight peered intently at the box office statistics today and smiled. For there he found consolation for his other troubles, such as the squabble over the referee which ended with the selection of Lou Magnolia of New York. Dempsey noted with satisfaction that the receipts are nearing the total of $275,000.

Dempsey with all the enthusiasm of an ambitious young business man is now certain that the gate will reach $350,000 and perhaps $400,000.

Retired millionaires, congressmen, United States senators, judges, Wall Street brokers, mayors of cities all over the country, bank presidents to the number of at least 200, society men and women, actresses, governors of states and other luminaries are pouring into town on every train.

Press reservations for the fight are unprecedented. Already there are 12 more requests than the total accounted for in the Dempsey-Tunney battle of the long count in Chicago. With only 202 accommodations for the working press all requests have been received.

Reservations also have come from more than a score of congressmen in Washington, from 18 United States senators, from a dozen federal judges and more than 200 bank presidents.

PAULINO EXPECTS EASY VICTORY OVER CHRISTNER

NEW YORK Feb 20—Paulino Uzcudun who takes on K. O. Christner here Friday night believes that the Akron rubber man will be a set-up for him. He is confident of beating Knute easily and then eliminating Jack Sharkey.

"Sharkey will beat Stribling and then I will conquer the championship," he declared through an interpreter.

The Basque is an 8 to 5 favorite to defeat Christner.

SCOTT TO COACH

READING Pa Feb 20—Everett Scott former iron man of the major leagues is entering his twenty first season in professional baseball. The veteran shortstop has signed as utility infielder and coach of the local International league team. Scott set a record by playing in 1,307 consecutive games in the American league.

FIGHTER KILLED

CALVARY'S big surprise package was to be sprung on the league leading Central Christian five last night at the Y M C A failed to materialize and the C C s finished on the long end of a 28 to 15 score. The game the first of the evening's entertainment in the Senior Sunday school loop was anything but interesting the high powered scoring [illegible] of the winners counting at will.

It was Christian's third straight win of the second half and their eighth straight since the start of the season. Gillis Christian center was on last night scoring seven field [illegible] for 11 points. Perry led the losers with six points. The half ended [illegible] to 3.

Waldo shot 10 free throws to nose out a 28 to 27 win over the scrappy United Brethern quintet. The U B s broke the league record for fouls committed with 10 personals called on them and the Waldo five broke the league record and the U B s heart by making good on all of them.

Strine Waldo center shot six fouls and five field goals to take scoring honors for the game. Vanderhoff led the losers with 10 counters. United Brethern led at the half 16 to 9 but the Waldo boys were too strong in the closing session.

Epworth forfeited its game to the Baptists. The Methodists had only two men present at game time. It was the second defeat of the second half for the Epworth crew and the third straight win for the Baptists.

CHRISTIANS WIN BY CLOSE SCORE

A lose 23 to 22 victory was the best that the league leading Christian five could do against the supposedly weak Presbyterian quint in the feature clash of the intermediate Sunday school loop games last night at the Y M C A.

Other results were Calvary [illegible] Baptists 12, Epworth 18 Greenwood 1[illegible].

WHEN KIDNEYS HURT DRINK MORE WATER

If Your Back Aches or Bladder Bothers, Take a Little Salts

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, can not injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

CHAMPIONS? GAME ENDS IN TIE SCORE

County Commission Fails To Settle Pennant Winner as Pleasant, Kirkpatrick Fray Stops at 19 All, Martel Boys in Second Place

BY BOB ELLIOTT
Sports Staff, The Star

WHAT Price Championship?

That's the very thing worried by members of the Marion County Basketball commission today as a result of the [illegible] mixup in the game to decide champions for the year.

Kirkpatrick and Pleasant, [illegible] teams which tied the season in a tie for first place, attempted to play it off last night on the Claridon gym and the net result was nothing. In other words the game finished in one of the mysteries of basketball, a tie, 19 to 19.

However the championship was settled during last night's game. This was the contest played at [illegible] last night between Martel and Caledonia [illegible] to determine second place in the east section. The Caledonia five was hardly a match for the sharpshooting tactics of forward Herschner and Burkhart [illegible] on the short end of a 22 to 17 score.

Present plans completed at the close of the tie game last night call for the contest to be replayed once more on next Thursday night starting at 8 o'clock, the place to be determined. These tie games are more or less of a mystery to everyone concerned, the main reason for not playing an extra period the same as in love games being rather vague to say the least.

The game at Claridon last night saw the Pleasant team crumple up under the face of a fast last half attack of the Kirkpatrick eagers and blow a five point advantage at the half way mark. Neither team presented much of a defense while the attacks of both teams were built around the scintillating work of two players. The Kirk eagers were conducted to the tie as result of the fine work of Lemke, forward. She caged four field goals and two free throws for 10 points. Court, Pleasant center was too tough for the Kirk defense ringing up 10 points on three field goals and four fouls.

A large crowd attended the game.

The Kirk defense was just as weak in the first half as it was strong in the second while the Pleasant defense was nearly impregnable in the first half of play and resembled as closely as could be determined a large Swiss cheese in the closing session of play.

Martel was given the right to enter the county tournament here Friday through the scoring activities of a certain forward by the name of Herschner. All he did was to score seven field goals for a good deal more than half of his team's points. Burkhart, Martel forward made six points while Reed got the other two on two free throws. Baird, Caledonia forward took care of most of his team's offensive work scoring seven points.

The score at the half was 13 to 6 in favor of the eventual winners. Martel will meet the winner of the Morral-Prospect game which is being played tonight at Pleasant in the second game of the county tournament here Friday.

BISHOPS TAKE OVER LEAD OF BUCKEYE; WIN FROM DENISON

Must Defeat Wittenberg Friday Night To Cop Championship

BY virtue of their thrilling victory over Denison last night [illegible] Ohio Wesleyan's battling Bishops are back at the helm of the Buckeye association basketball race [illegible] possessing undisputed leadership. The Bishops by topping the [illegible] night raised their standing [illegible] point over Cincinnati, and [illegible] Big Red down into second place.

It was one of the most thrilling if not the most thrilling basketball game on an Ohio court this [illegible]. Denison got away to an early lead, was ahead at the half 16 to [illegible] and stayed at the top until one [illegible] before the final gun.

Harry Hinzder a leading scorer in the association dropped three loops in succession and Seigenthaler who has been running wild lately [illegible] in a long shot to tie the score. And with 30 seconds to go the Wesleyan forward sunk his [illegible] basket of the game putting his team ahead to victory.

Each team lost a man on personal fouls. Wesleyan lost Red Hill and Denison Homberger star guard.

The win was the sixth for Wesleyan in nine games and a victory [illegible] Wittenberg Friday night will assure the title for the Bishops while Denison can hope for no more than a [illegible] by defeating Ohio in its last game. Cincinnati can get a share of the [illegible] by winning both of its remaining games with Ohio and Miami.

Handful of Shares Furnish Action For Dull Market

U. S. Steel and American Can Up One to Two Points

By W. S. COUSINS.

RK, Feb. 20.—A handful stocks furnished the of the activity today in and dullest session of the e the August dog-days. the covering of shorts, ssional window-trimming favorites, indications show- plainly that both the pro- and the outside public have on stock trading for the Between Thursday's ses- next Monday there will be sandwiched in a holiday, a half-session and Sunday, with the possibility of a Saturday closing. This would make a three-days' shut-down for the big board, and in the meantime the reserve board's statement will reveal exactly the effect of the selling of stocks on the brokers' loan situation.

This was enough to keep hundreds of traders, big and little, on the side-lines, even if the stiffening of brokers' margins had not already forced out a good portion of the small-fry dabblers in the market. The shake-out has already disposed of many of these and it is more difficult to get back than it was a year or so ago. The commission houses are keeping their customers out of the market by the promise of lower prices for the favorite stocks.

The big bankers were back in the market for U. S. Steel, American Can and other "First National Bank" stocks, according to the gossip of the market. American Can sold up two points at 111½ and Steel common advanced a point to 173½. American and Foreign power held the spotlight for the utilities, with a six-point jump to 136½. Kreuger and Toll, Continental Baking, and St. Joseph Lead led a brilliant move in the specialties.

TODAY'S REVIEW OF YESTERDAY'S GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 20 — Grains opened higher on the local exchange yesterday, advanced to the top for the day within the first hour of trading and then reacted to finish practically unchanged. Liquidation by tired longs and depressing cash news were responsible for the decline.

An accumulation of buying orders put wheat up at the opening. Cold weather continued to be the bull's incentive, but bears pressed the market persistently. About mid-session rumors of wheat being worked from outside markets started selling which sent prices below the previous close, but heavy absorption led to a late rally and prices closed unchanged to ⅛c higher.

Commission house buying caused an opening rally in corn also, but the decline in wheat, local selling and depressing cash news similar to that in wheat brought a reaction. Trade was not active and buying power to offset local offerings appeared only on the dips. Closing prices were steady to ⅛c lower.

Cash Oats Heavy

A heavy cash market continued to restrain the demand for oats futures and prices of that cereal registered declines of ⅛@⅜c for the day. Rye followed a choppy course with wheat, but was comparatively firm, closing ⅛@1c higher.

The ease with which the wheat market rallied from the sharp break to under the previous close again called the attention of the trade to the excellent support just under the market which has been its big feature since the start of the upturn in January.

Professional sentiment was inclined to the bearish side early yesterday at least for a short turn. Aside from the opening rally on resting orders it caused, weather was considered out of the picture as a factor for the moment, inasmuch as the forecast shows no great variations in temperature in store for the rest of the week. With the unexpectedly firm closing, sentiment toward the constructive side was again more in evidence.

Apart from the purchase by a local house of 150,000 bu of wheat to come from Kansas City, which increased the liquidation in the futures, news of the wheat situation was not colorful enough to promote active interest either way. Liverpool was ⅛d lower to ⅝d higher at the close.
